ARMY INSPECTORS GOT GIFTS FROM CAMP BUILDERS

Auditor Tells Probers of Alleged Graft at Camp Sherman.

SAYS MAN DREW $2100 FOR WORK HE DID NOT DO

Declares 160 Buildings Were Defective and Had to Be Repaired.

Columbus, Oct. 30.—That government payrolls were padded and army officers in the quartermaster's construction corps were furnished with liquor and valuable presents by contractors, was the testimony today of E. E. Heald, a former payroll auditor and bookkeeper for D. W. McGrath and Son, Columbus contractor, before the congressional sub-committee investigating graft charges in connection with the construction of Camp Sherman at Chillicothe.

Heald told the committee that Frank J. McGrath, a son of D. W. McGrath, had frequently brought liquor to the camp for army officers, and that he (Heald) personally had delivered some of the liquor to Captain Nicholson. He said the McGrath firm, which did considerable construction work at the camp, was paid $2100 for work he did not do.

Heald said never in his life had he seen such a waste and inefficiency as there was at Camp Sherman. He said hundreds of dollars' worth of nails and hardware could be found under the barracks buildings at Camp Sherman because carpenters were not allowed to stop to pick up the nails.

The witness explained to the committee that he had trouble with McGrath and Sons about the wages he was to receive and because he paid himself $232 which he claimed was due him for Sunday work. He was arrested and bound over to the grand jury at Chillicothe, but later was acquitted.

The committee had read into the records today copies of letters alleged to have been sent from McGrath and Son to the quartermaster, James Bentley of A. Bentley and Sons company, Toledo contractors, who constructed most of Camp Sherman and Major W. A. Starrett, chairman of the emergency committee of the council of national defense, at Columbus.

Heald testified that 160 barracks buildings constructed at Camp Sherman by the Bentley company were defective and had to be repaired by the McGrath company at a cost of $75,000 before they could receive soldiers.

E. H. McGrath, member of the firm of D. W. McGrath & Son, regarding which Heald testified, issued a statement following the hearing at Chillicothe, in which he denied that his firm had made expensive presents to army officers at Camp Sherman last Christmas.

He stated that it was the firm's custom to give presents to all persons connected with their work at Christmas time, but that no expensive presents were given. He said the company during the influenza epidemic last fall kept whiskey, their own doctors and own hospital at the camp. "I do not know if any of this whiskey reached others than employees," said Mr. McGrath, who said he was ill himself at the time.

The statement declared that Frank McGrath was employed by the month and not by the day, and that if he was absent from Camp Sherman for a period of 84 days, he was in Columbus on government business. His automobile, the statement said, was rented to the government and finally was taken over by the government when the rental price reached the limit of $100.

The statement declared that Heald is "an ascender and a defaulter who was arrested by us and who has written us a blackmailing letter giving sub-generalities as contained in his testimony before the committee."

RESCUERS DRIVEN FROM COAL MINE BY RAGING FIRE

Workers Ordered From Burning Shaft Because of Danger of Explosion—Hope Abandoned For Trapped Miners.

Steubenville, Oct. 30.—At 6 o'clock today mine officials and state mine inspectors ordered all rescue workers out of Y. and O. mine No. 2 at Amsterdam and cleared the company's property about the mouth of the shaft for fear of an explosion. The 20 miners who have been entombed in entry 11 west since yesterday morning will be abandoned, according to word received from Amsterdam this morning. No hope is held out that they are alive.

The rescue parties worked all night long. At 2 a. m. they had battled their way to within 150 feet of entry 15 where the imprisoned miners were supposed to be but fire broke out behind them and they were forced to fight their way through flame and smoke, many narrowly escaping suffocation.

Subsequent attempts to rescue the men failing, the officials at daybreak ordered the men to leave the mines. They were brought out and sent to their homes.

Coal was afire throughout the entire workings and the mine was filled with gas. Inspectors pronounced it extremely dangerous after a final inspection tour shortly before 6 o'clock.

The list of missing was increased to 20 last midnight when it was definitely known that Andrew McLesson, 41, a loader, went into the mine yesterday morning. He belonged to the loading shift of entry 15 and has not been accounted for.

Last night the timbers of the main entry were burned out and dropped, resulting in serious slate and coal falls which impeded the work of rescue. The state mine rescue car arrived last night at 10 o'clock but was unable to operate.

State inspectors and mine officials are now in consultation and on their decision as to whether or not to attempt to make it to get the bodies of the men. From the condition of the mine, inspectors say there is slim hope that any of the imprisoned miners escaped death.

The miners were entombed yesterday when an electric generator exploded and set fire to the mine interior. Intense heat and smoke had greatly handicapped the work of rescue.

Of the men entombed, but one has made his way to the surface. He emerged last night, saying he had been pulled to the shaft by his mine car. He lay on the floor of a mine car. He was badly burned.

Entrance of the mine was crowded by relatives and friends of the miners who eagerly watch the progress of the rescue car.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO URGE DEPORTATION

Washington, Oct. 30.—At the request of Attorney General Palmer the senate immigration committee today ordered a favorable report on the house bill providing for deportation and permanent exclusion from the United States of alien anarchists.

ASHBROOK AND KING ACT LIKE CHUMS

Washington, Oct. 30.—One would have thought King, all right of the Belgians and Representative Ashbrook of Ohio were old pals, judging by the way the king greeted that solon, during the house reception. The minute the king laid eyes on the Ohio representative he recalled that Ashbrook dined with him in Belgium last fall.

"I thought I probably would get to see you here," said the king, who then inquired about the other members of the congressional party that took dinner with him. The crown prince also greeted Ashbrook enthusiastically, and these attentions of royal courtesy have been blocked the long receiving line and caused many persons to wonder how plain democratic "Bill" Ashbrook got such a "drag" with a king.

UNION CONTRACTS ARE ORDERED EXECUTED

Youngstown, Oct. 30.—The national strike committee at Pittsburgh has endorsed the stand taken by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers that contracts with steel plants, made before the strike, shall be held inviolate, and that amalgamated under such contract have been ordered to return to work. It was announced today by D. J. Davis, vice president of the Amalgamated, who is here to see that the orders are carried out. The order affects nine departments of four plants in the Youngstown district, employing about 5,000 men. The plants which have contracts with the Amalgamated members are the Republic Iron and Steel company, A. M. Evers company, Brier Hill Steel company and Sharon Steel Hoop company. Amalgamated men returned to work at the Trumbull Steel company at Warren three weeks ago under a local agreement.

MINOR RIOTS OCCUR AT HAMMOND PLANT

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Minor rioting in the vicinity of one of the steel plants and the return to work of 1500 men at the Standard Steel Car company mills at Hammond, Ind., were the chief developments reported today in the strike of steel workers in the Chicago district. In a three-cornered fight among approximately 65 negroes, employed at the South Chicago Steel mills, strikers and policemen, in which more than 200 shots were fired, no one was injured. Four negroes, armed, were arrested.

FOSTER MAKES CHARGES IN STRIKE ORGANIZATION

Canton, Oct. 30.—Following the mass meeting held in Eagles Hall yesterday afternoon, William Z. Foster, national secretary of the iron and steel workers, appointed C. R. Kramer as local secretary succeeding Bert Evey, who has been at the head of the local strikers since the strike was called.

Emmett Fallon, who has been captain of the picket line, resigned and Foster appointed Walter Petersen, treasurer of the strikers, as captain.

Foster made no explanation for the change.

There was no disorder reported in the mill zone this morning. More men are returning to work but no announcement is made as to the number who went in today.

TEACHERS GIVEN INCREASE IN PAY OF $10 MONTHLY

School Board Readjusts Scale of Salaries For All High and Grade School Teachers.

The board of education has readjusted the salaries of all the teachers and principals of the high and grade schools of the city. All were given an increase of $10 per month, beginning October 1, for the remainder of the school year. The pay of the principals of schools depends upon the number of rooms in the building. Where it is eight or more their pay will be the same as the teachers in the high school, but where it is only four, five or six the pay is less.

KING ALBERT VISITS U. S. NAVAL ACADEMY

Washington, Oct. 30.—The visit of the Belgian royal family to America drew near an end today. This, the last full day of their stay in this country, provided a diversified program including an informal tea at the White House at four o'clock with Mrs. Wilson and a visit to the naval academy at Annapolis by King Albert and Crown Prince Leopold.

For Queen Elizabeth, the program called for a visit to Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore and the Red Cross hospital for the blind. During the day King Albert was to receive degrees from George Washington University and the Catholic University and Queen Elizabeth was to have a coped upon her a degree from Trinity College. At one o'clock King Albert arranged an informal luncheon.

ITALY REPORTS U. S. TURNS DOWN PLAN

Paris, Oct. 30.—(Havas).—Notification has been given the peace conference by a representative of Italy today that a proposal made by Foreign Minister Tittoni for the settlement of the Fiume problem had not been accepted by the United States. It is declared by authoritative Italian quarters, however, that although the reply of Secretary of State Lansing was unfavorable as a whole, a considerable portion of the Tittoni proposal was accepted and that the exchanges with the United States on the subject would be continued.

As soon as the extreme concessions the United States is willing to make are known to the representatives of Italy here the Italian government will be put in possession of all the elements of the problem as they have been developed by the delegation in Paris and Italy's position will be definitely made known.

DIRECT ATTACK ON WILSON IS MADE BY LEWIS

Mine Union Head Says President Usurps Executive Power.

REPLY TO CABINET OFFICIAL APPROVED BY UNION LEADERS

Answers Message Sent By Secretary of Labor to Union Officers.

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—A direct attack upon President Wilson's course on the coal strike situation as "the climax of a long series of attempted usurpations of executive power" was made by John L. Lewis, acting president and the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America.

The attack came in a long telegram to Secretary of Labor Wilson, replying to a message from him delivered to the conference here yesterday of some four score officials and leaders of the union.

The telegrams constituted the first exchange of views between the administration and the union. While the telegram from Secretary Wilson reached here yesterday the reply was not completed until today when it was submitted to the executive board by President Lewis. It was announced that the reply was approved by unanimous vote.

Union headquarters refused to give out the secretary's message, saying its publication was something for the sender to approve. The reply indicated that the secretary offered to call a conference of the miners and employers, which offer was accepted in the following language: "We shall hold ourselves in readiness to attend any joint conference which may be arranged by you upon fair basis and stand ready to reconvene the international convention of our organization when ever our scale committee has received an honorable proposition for presentation to such convention."

BILL PROVIDES FOR LOAN TO RAILROADS

Washington, Oct. 30.—Continuance of the government's emergency standard return to railroads for six months after the end of federal control is provided by the house interstate commerce sub-committee draft of legislation for solving the railroad problem after private operation of the lines is resumed.

Provision also is made for government loans, such advances to be approved by the interstate commerce commission with the carriers being required to give security. Likewise provision is made for the refunding of debts, owed by the companies to the government, which were contracted during the period of government operation.

Work on the legislation was completed last night by the sub-committee but the proposed measure was not public pending decision of the full committee which will meet later today to begin the final framing of the bill.

There are said to be wide differences between the house draft and the senate bill, committee men admitting their plan does not contain a provision prohibiting strikes, or one creating a transportation board to determine the full authority from the point of the public service.

AGED MINER ESCAPES IS BADLY BURNED

Alliance, Oct. 30.—About 50 miners in a mine at Amsterdam, the scene of yesterday's calamity. All but 18 escaped. John Gray, an aged man, one of the entombed, made his escape but is severely burned. His son is one of the 18 still in the mine. The other 17 are foreign-born workmen whose names are only known to the timekeeper. The mine is said to be a mass of fire, belching forth huge volumes of smoke. Electric work is being done to subdue the flames, and secure rescue or bodies of the men.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TRAIN WRECKED; SIX DEAD

Los Angeles, California, Oct. 30.—Six dead and about 120 persons injured, some seriously, was the known casualty list today as a result of the wreck of the Southern Pacific Railroad train.

The tangled mass of wreckage near Acton, a few miles from here was expected to reveal additional bodies. No official investigation of the wreck had been arranged early today, but railroad officials said it was caused by the engineer attempting to make too much speed on a ten degree curve.

Frank Fleider of Los Angeles, engineer, the fireman and four passengers comprise the known dead. A survivor said he counted nine bodies at the scene of the wreck. Five bodies were brought here and a relief train with injured was hurried to hospitals here.

Of the heavy laden train the engine and seven coaches left the tracks. One car was thrown at a right angle across the rails and the others piled up in ditches to the left and right.

ACTION IS TAKEN TO INSURE OPERATION OF ROADS DURING STRIKE

GOVERNMENT MAY CURTAIL USE OF COAL TO CONSERVE SUPPLY FOR ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES OF NATION.

NON-UNION MINES CAN SUPPLY NEEDS FOR DOMESTIC USE SEC. LANE SAYS

Washington Checks Up On Reserve Supply and Finds Conditions Good—New England and Northwest Have Adequate Stores of Fuel For Several Months.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Federal government agencies moved swiftly today to meet the situation which will result from the strike of bituminous miners Saturday.

Developments included:

(1) Orders to railroads to confiscate all coal in transit if necessary to build up and reserve for operation of the roads.

(2) Re-establishment of the priorities list of the fuel administration so that the railroads, public service utilities and essential industries will have first call on whatever coal is mined and on that in storage.

(3) Preparation of an executive order establishing maximum prices for coal and completion of plans by the department of justice to punish those guilty of profiteering and hoarding.

(4) Announcement by Secretary Lane that the government would not hesitate to curtail consumption of coal in industries fifty per cent so that essential industries might be kept in operation.

(5) General discussion of the situation by President Wilson's cabinet, which met in special session at the call of Secretary Lansing.

(6) Working out of plans by which miners who wish to continue work will be afforded every possible protection including that of federal troops should that become necessary.

At the conclusion of the special cabinet meeting Attorney General Palmer announced that the fuel administrator would take control of the handling of coal and would use his authority under the Lever Act to take whatever steps might be necessary to meet the situation.

Secretary Lane announced as the cabinet met that the government would not hesitate to curtail the consumption of coal in industries 50 per cent in order that the coal on hand and that available from unaffected non-union mines be equally distributed to essential industries.

The curtailment list used by the war industries board during the war would be taken as the basis for the industries to be supplied. Mr. Lane said, "engaged in manufacturing munitions might be cut off altogether."

The current supply of coal from non-union mines is sufficient to meet domestic demand and supply the needs of railroads and public utilities, Mr. Lane said. New England has stored away a two months supply which will take care of all requirements for that period.

The northwest has a fair winter's supply stored at Duluth, Minn., and other nearby storage points, Mr. Lane said. There is from 150,000,000 to 200,000,000 tons of coal in the hands of the railroads and they would have to be taken care of through curtailment of their consumption.

Revival of the fuel administration to deal with conditions growing out of the coal strike is not necessary, Dr. Harry A. Garfield advised the president's cabinet today holding that the war time powers of that body now are vested in the war food administration which will have full authority to distribute coal to essential industries.

Members of the cabinet said that if Dr. Garfield's suggestion was adopted it obviously would be necessary for the president to call congress to meet to reorganize the fuel administration and that the railroad administration could allocate coal in accordance with the preferential list in effect during the coal shortage two years ago.

While revival of the fuel administration had been urged by government officials to prevent hoarding and profiteering, the department of justice announced that it had power to handle that situation under the food control act.

An executive order restoring maximum prices for coal will be issued by President Wilson, probably today. Officials would not say what maximum had been determined upon.

Director General Hines' statement says:

"1.—Holding such coal, exemptions will be made as far as possible of coal destined to certain classes of consignees in the order of priority which is the basis of priority adopted during the war by the fuel administration."

"2.—Steam railroads, inland and coastwise vessels.

"3.—Navy and army.

"4.—Public utilities, including plants and such portions of plants as supply light, heat and water for public use.

"5.—Producers and manufacturers of goods requiring coal for production.

"6.—National, state, county and municipal government emergency requirements.

"7.—Bunkers and other marine emergency requirements as specified above.

"8.—Producers of news print papers and plants necessary to the printing and publication of daily newspapers."

STATE WILL NOT STOP CONFISCATION OF COAL

Columbus, Oct. 30.—As the orders of the government are paramount, the Ohio public utilities commission will make no effort, it was said, at their offices today, to stop the confiscation by the railroads of coal in transit.

Last week the Northern Ohio Traction and Light company asked the commission for action, saying that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad threatened to confiscate coal consigned to that company in the event of a coal strike.

The commission telegraphed the railroad company asking that it continue to deliver coal to public utilities, but no answer was received to the telegram.

100,000 WILL QUIT IN PENNSYLVANIA DIST.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 30.—The dawn of Saturday will find more than 100,000 coal miners of Western and Central Pennsylvania and West Virginia on strike according to officials of the United Mine Workers of America in the two districts, who have declared that the men will obey orders of their leaders to walk out.

COLORADO MOBILIZES GUARD FOR STRIKE

WEST VIRGINIA CITIZENS PLAN TO AID OFFICIALS

Charlestown, W. Va., Oct. 30.—Sheriffs and mayors of all cities and municipalities in West Virginia had under consideration a recommendation from Governor Cornwell that they organize committees of "spirited citizens" to aid public officials during the coal strike scheduled to open at midnight tomorrow.

In his communication to the city and county executives, the governor called attention to "the dangers to which the state and organized society may be suddenly subjected" and added that he had "information as to the accumulation of arms and ammunition in this state, of which the public does not know."

CANADIAN AIR CORPS MAN TO WALK ON WINGS OF PLANE WHILE FLYING OVER NEWARK HOUSE TOPS

Lieut. Lee in W. Chase, flying a big army airplane, arrived in Newark this afternoon from Lima, where he has been giving exhibition flights with Robert Bartley, one of two aviators in this country who jumps from one plane to another while in mid-air.

Cise was in pursuit service in France with the Canadian Royal Flying Corps, as was also Bartley. The lieutenant, although only 27 years of age, is credited with bringing down a number of German planes. He has a splendid record and carries a number of medals presented him by both the English and French governments.

Bartley has an unusually fine war record as shown by his medals, wound and service stripes and papers carried throughout the war. He is a native of Los Angeles, Cal. though several years of his life have been spent at Toledo.

When England entered the war in 1914 he hurried across to Winnipeg and enlisted. He was assigned to the flying corps and entered service when the war was started. He went through all of the big battles and seven times was shot down. On one occasion both arms and both legs were broken but each time he emerged from the hospital smiling and in shape to tackle it again.

An Advocate representative will make a flight tomorrow and when passing over the city will drop an Advocate subscription to the paper without charge.

THIEVES LEAVE STOLEN CAR IN GRANVILLE

Three young men drove in from the east Tuesday night in a stolen Overland touring car and passing the residence of Charles Porter residing on Route 1 entered his garage and stole the auto license tags from his Ford car. They remained in Newark all night and drove to Granville yesterday morning.

The trio stopped in the college town and their actions aroused the suspicions of Marshal Shipley who questioned them. They told him they were from Cleveland and were going through after new cars. The marshal let them and they saw him go to the telephone office and the young men hurriedly left towards the T. & O. C. railway yards and have not been seen since.

Police Chief Jas. Sheridan located Porter who reported the loss of his license tags and the tail light of his Ford. The name of the Over and car is number 3867, but no engine number can be found. In the meantime the car is in a Granville garage awaiting identification by its owner.

Three out of every four Germans more than 90 years of age, are women still in good health.

Columbus, Oct. 30.—Prompt demobilization of state troops which are assembled at Akron for strike duty at Canton is needed was recommended to Governor Cox today by chairman T. J. Duffy of the state industrial commission who returned today from Canton.

Chairman Duffy has been in Canton for several days with George F. Miles, chief mediator of the commission and both agreed that it was hardly probable that the troops would be needed at Canton, now that order has been almost completely restored there.

Governor Cox is on a speaking tour in Kentucky but was informed of the recommendation and his office received some word from him during the day.

SENATE TO TAKE UP LABOR CLAUSE IN TREATY

Washington, Oct. 20.—With the long list of committee amendments to the league treaty finally disposed, the senate today lined up for the next big fight of the treaty controversy, which is to center around an effort to strike out the provision for an international labor organization.

The labor section was not touched upon in the rejected committee amendment program but several senators were ready today to put up a stubborn fight on the floor against it. A motion to strike it out was made in the committee in August by Senator Fall, Republican New Mexico, but later was withdrawn with the announcement that he was for a vote on it in the senate.

Senator La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin also has announced he would make such a motion and Senator Thomas, Democrat of Colorado and others repeatedly have assailed the section in debate.

Textually the treaty today was just where it was when it was laid before the senate on July 10, the last of the amendments attached by the foreign relations committee after weeks of deliberation having been thrown out by the senate yesterday.

In view of the present unsettled labor conditions elements are expected to be injected into the debate upon the labor representation which may prove long and considerably. The leaders do not look for action for a week or more.

"RESTORED MY HEALTH"
SAYS GEO. B. PLUMLEY

The story of Geo. B. Plumley, Division Operator of the B. & O. is of interest to all who suffer from stomach trouble. He says: "I have every reason to believe that a few years ago Dr. Parker's Treatment for indigestion and constipation saved my life." He goes on to tell of the tortures he suffered, how miserable and run-down he became; of hopeless visits to specialists and health resorts; how a friend advised this treatment, of the quick and permanent relief it gave him. Finally he says: "I have recommended Dr. Parker's Treatment thousands of times and never know it to fail."

"I am so positive that my treatment will relieve indigestion and constipation that I authorize your druggist to return your dollar if it fails in your case." Geo. B. Parker, M. D., Athens, Ohio.—Adv.

90,000 WILL BE IDLE IN ILLINOIS DISTRICT

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—Mining of soft coal at the rate of approximately 85,000,000 tons a year will cease in Illinois, third largest bituminous coal producing state in the union, and 90,000 miners will be idle when the miners' strike order becomes effective at midnight tomorrow.

The figures were furnished here today at state mine headquarters and the Illinois department of mines and minerals. Reports reaching the capitol from various parts of the state indicate that efforts of industries, particularly smaller consumers and individuals to obtain coal before the shut down have reported almost panic proportions in some localities.

EMPLOYERS' CITATIONS.

November 11th, first anniversary of Armistice day, has been set by the office of the assistant to the secretary of war, in charge of soldier employment, as the final date for applications for the citation issued jointly by the war and navy departments to all employers who have taken back their men, or who stand ready to re-employ them. Letters postmarked after midnight of this day cannot be considered by the service and information branch, which is in charge of the issuance of the certificate.
Some 40,000 of these citations have been already granted to corporations, firms and individual employers who have put themselves on record with the war department. They are now members of the Legion of Patriotic Employers, started in May of this year. The citation which each one has received is in the form of a handsome document, suitable for framing, signed by the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy. It shows that the recipient has pledged himself to keep faith with all his employees who entered the army or the navy in defense of the country during the war.
The time limit is now set. There is yet opportunity to make an application. Employers who consider themselves eligible for a citation should address Lieutenant Colonel M. C. Smith, Council of National Defense Building, Washington, D. C., stating that they have taken back all who formerly worked for them, or stand ready to do so.

P. W. Faust, O. G. Hand and Walter D. Welker—these are the Democratic candidates for councilmen at large. They are men of good standing in the community and are worthy of support at next Tuesday's election.

Election day comes next Tuesday "Gus" Atherton has given Newark a good administration and he deserves re-election as mayor of this city.

WOMEN AND THE WEST.
(Cleveland Plain Dealer)
Presidential primaries are but six months away, yet there is complete uncertainty in both Republican and Democratic ranks as to who is likely to be chosen head of the national ticket. Not often has the country approached the end of the year preceding the great quadrennial political event with sentiment so thoroughly unorganized.
Not a little depends upon the outcome of the fight over the treaty and league of nations covenant in the senate. Hiram Johnson has burned all bridges behind him in the effort to amend or destroy the pact. He is today the man first in mind when discussing the presidential nomination of his party. However, if the west is favorably inclined toward the league of nations as unbiased observers insist Johnson cannot hope to pave his way to the presidency by his present bitter policy against league and pact.
On the Democratic side the name most often mentioned has been that of William G. McAdoo, though within a few weeks another has edged into the limelight. Herbert Hoover's unostentatious return to America, after herculean labors in Europe, and his prompt declaration in favor of early ratification of peace brings him into the circle of political gossip. Like Hiram Johnson, is a Californian and a proponent of the league of nations. Hoover the west would have opportunity to divide their votes according to their sentiments touching the league of nations without in either case turning against a favorite son.
The west decided the last presidential election, smashing a precedent in that since the foundation of the republic it is likely to decide the election next year. Furthermore, even without the ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, women will vote next year in twenty-five states and help elect 260 members of the electoral college—only six less than a majority.
Obviously, it behooves both parties to nominate candidates for president who have the confidence both of the women of America and of the west generally. Backers of mere favorite sons must reckon with these considerations.

BENIGN DESPOTISM IM-POSSIBLE.
(Ohio State Journal)
A conservative, wise direction of our activities by union leaders might be bearable, just as some autocrats of the past have been, a benign despotic government having its advantages. The trouble being they will not long remain conservative or benign.
The spectacle of labor chiefs who in the past have stood for sane politics, forced by the radicals within their own ranks into positions their own consciences must criticize, marks the inevitable result of the universal unionism now contemplated.
To save their leadership even well intentioned men would be hurried to the border of terrorism, ultimately to be detested by successors of the Lenin and Trotsky type.
The present strike situation is forced from below by ambitious subleaders who hope to usurp the power of those now in charge.

Did You Know
That the Persians were the first to introduce saddles? Saddles of a similar shape to those now in use were not known till the 14th century and side stirrups were not introduced until 1533. Saddles were used in the 12th century but were not common even in the 12th. It is said that the Numidians and Mauritians rode their horses without either bit or saddle, and guided them solely by using a small switch, which was applied to either side of the neck, according as they wished to turn.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX.
(St. Louis Times)
In urging the repeal of the excess profits tax the Investment Bankers' Association was reflecting the views of all who have studied that fearfully and wonderfully devised system of inequity, rightly held responsible for much of the high cost of living. As Senator Owens told the excess profits tax has all others excelled. Each "passer on" always adds more or less for safety's sake. A straight consumption tax would really be easier.
But there are other inequities. In the first place, there is no need to justify a graduated tax in corporations. A graduated tax should be laid on incomes, with a distinction between active and "lazy" ones, as a matter of public policy. Stagnation is the tendency of the "excess profits" tax. Hazardous enterprises, to which the world is greatly indebted, are greatly discouraged by a graduated tax. It is a case of the enterprise losing or the government winning. There must be prospect of gain for each stockholder to induce the organization of such enterprises.
The excess profits tax depends on capital, and no equitable method of ascertaining it has ever been devised. It would take work by its own training accountants to find out the actual investment of a large establishment that had been long in business. The "family" corporations, built up through long years of careful nurture, are hardest hit. The small concerns, which are the backbone of the nation, are not so much affected. The act, as originally "interpreted" by the tax court, is a case of the enterprise losing or the government winning. There must be prospect of gain for each stockholder to induce the organization of such enterprises.

The trouble is that the President has both nerve and nerves; some of the robust senators have only "nerve."

Some Republican newspapers are suggesting Nicholas Murray Butler as a nominee for President next year. And they are papers that have been loud in their sneers at "college" presidents.—Rochester Herald.

Rumanians Leaving.
If all the Rumanians who, it is believed, are soon to leave the United States, were gathered together, they would constitute a city of about 100,000 inhabitants. It would be an unusual city, for most of the inhabitants would be men, and their average wealth would be about $2,000 or sufficient to begin to live comfortably in Rumania. The odds of the imagined city indicates why so many are going back to Europe, for the Rumanian, having no family in the United States, is not readily Americanized. New York City is said to have a temporary exodus of some 10,000 waiting for the exodus. The return is not particularly surprising, for the remaking of the map of Europe creates a new Rumania, which offers special inducements in land to the returning Rumanians. Of course, which provides for itself an immediate population of 16,000,000, living in a country larger than Italy.—Christian Science Monitor.

Go Back to First Principles.
In his "Recollections" John Morley quotes this as a frequently repeated saying of John Stuart Mill: "The future of mankind will be gravely imperiled if great questions are left to be fought out between Ignorant Change and Ignorant Opposition to Change." In its opposition to the closed shop and other forms of labor restriction, the organized labor, in demanding its "rights" is doing the same. Should neither or both persist we would be exactly where we were before. The Industrial Conference must find a way for Capital and Labor to bargain, despite the rival claim of "rights." The right of extending or refusing recognition to unions must be retained by employers, and workers should continue to enjoy the "right" of organizing, or refusing to organize, but this does not preclude an arrangement which should facilitate bargaining over labor, wages and working conditions.—Brooklyn Eagle.

When the coal miners get all they want we may wear coal in scarfpins and the miners may burn diamonds by the hod.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Readers' Viewpoint
A Plea for Belgium.
Editor of the Advocate.—While America is playing such high honors to King Albert and Cardinal Mercier what ought we to think of the United States senators and other men in high places, who are virtually declaring in the course of these distinguished visitors, that the United States must enter into no agreement or covenant to protect their country from any future aggression such as little Belgium suffered during four long years, lest, forsooth, we lose our "independence" and "sovereignty"?
I am thinking of the same Belgium, Mr. Editor, that in order to fulfill her pledge of neutrality and save the Republic of France from devastation and ruin and the human race from German domination bravely resisted the German hordes and almost died on the altar of the world's salvation. I feel very safe in declaring that if Belgium had given free passage over her soil to the German armies, they would have taken Paris in less than a fortnight, and would have "bled France white," as they boasted they would do.

RINGMASTER ON THE JOB.

The public press gives the important information that the Republican State Advisory committee is mapping a program of legislation for the general assembly when it reconvenes in December. No doubt all over Ohio the public is greatly impressed and it is easy to see that the millennium is almost upon us.
Our esteemed legislature was in session for nearly eight months and its "program" was mapped out daily by said advisory committee. The ringmasters cracked the whip and the G. O. P. two-winged circus acrobats jumped through the hoops. The session proved to the most monumental failure in the history of the state and with the bosses at the helm once more and the 1920 election several months nearer at hand, the session will be given over to more peanut politics. The last session was a dismal failure and it is only fair to the legislature to say that it was because of the club swung over its head by the bosses. There is no chance for the coming session to be any different.

The public may take its choice between the American Tribune's assertion that the mayor's collection of fines during the month of May amounted to $6.00 and the mayor's invitation for the Republican committee to call at his office and inspect the official receipts for more than $500 which he turned over to the proper authorities for fines collected during that month.

The signatures of 11,450 clergymen, representing virtually every denomination, were affixed to a petition which was sent to the United States senate a few days ago urging prompt ratification of the peace treaty. The game of politics must be played however, but there is indication that the end will come soon. The treaty will be ratified.

Long experience as one of the leading lawyers of the city fits Frank A. Bolton for the office of municipal judge. Mr. Bolton has every necessary qualification for the position which is a highly responsible one.

Senator Moses' backstairs gossip concerning the President's condition may have been fathered by the wish rather than the desire for fact.

CLUB STUDIES LISZT'S WORKS

Women's Music Club Holds
Meeting at Byrn Du Farm
—Fine Program Is Rendered.

(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, Oct. 30.—There were few absentees of the Women's Music club
Wednesday afternoon when the roll
was called in the spacious drawing room at "Byrn Du" at the call of the president, Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain.
Amidst beautiful surroundings—exquisite roses, and magnificent chrysanthemums shutting out the memory of the heavy rainfall outside—the company assembled abandoned themselves to the joy of listening to an exquisite program artistically rendered.

Franz Liszt, composer and reformer
in music, Hungarian by birth, a social lion of brilliant gifts and wonderful attainments, the product of the last century, furnished the theme of the interesting lecture by Mrs. C. B. White, and selections from his work constituted the musical program of the afternoon.

The orchestral effects of the Dante Symphony were wonderfully brought out by Mrs. White and Mrs. Mabel Ashton; Miss Larkin and Mrs. Darrow
on the two Steinway Grands, the three movements, Inferno, Purgatorio and Paradiso furnishing some tremendous descriptive effects, thrilling but not altogether soothing; Mrs. Ernest Shepardson sang the ever beautiful "O Wondrous Rapture," Mrs. C. D. Coons, after her long rest, was heard with pleasure in the "Wanderer's Night Song," and Mrs. J. W. Rohrer presented a group "Thou Art Like Unto a Flower" and "The Loreley,"—the latter one of the most perfect specimens of the composers art Mrs. Mabel Ashton played the "Love Dream No. 2,"
with its exquisite singing quality. Mrs.
Roe Morrow sang "The Fisher Boy,"
with its lure of the water, and Mrs.
Theodore Johnson gave "Mignon's
Song" with its yearning and longing
admirably brought out. "Sonetto del Petrarca," a love song originally interpreted for the voice, and the "Dance of the Gnomes" were given with characteristic finish and musical feeling by Miss Bessie Larkin, the Newark member of the club. Two three-part songs,
"The Bonds Are Fallen," from St.
Elizabeth and "Chorus of Reapers,"
from Prometheus, closed the program,
with rounds of applause for the singers: Miss Spencer, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs.
Shepardson, Mrs. Ullman, Mrs. Love-
less, Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Ebaugh,
Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Carey Jones,
Mrs. White and Mrs. Darrow were accompanists.

Guests were: Miss McCully of Dayton, Mrs. Gale Seaman, Los Angeles,
Cal.; Mrs. C. J. Eddy, Billings, Montana; Mrs. Mary P. Galt, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Edson H. Rupp. Several new members, both active and associate, were welcomed by Mrs. Chamberlain in a brief talk, in which she presented the aims and aspirations of the club. The club was invited to speak on the circulation of county and state
by the women of the suffrage association in their efforts to secure the signatures of those forming equal suffrage. Her talk was brief but effective and the members responded after the program by the required signatures.

The women of the Methodist church
will serve their annual election-day
chicken supper next Tuesday evening
from 4:30 to 7.
Mrs. John McClain, Mrs. John S.
Graham and Mrs. Lucy E. Van Kirk attended the Methodist mission convention held at Trenton, N. J., last Saturday. Mrs. Christine Cook opened her home in College street Wednesday evening for the Hallowe'en entertainment given by the young people of the Epworth League of the Methodist church.

James F. Roubush, called the best forward pass that Denison ever had,
has gone in again for football from which he had withdrawn on account of the condition of his eyes.

At an informal meeting of the executive board of the Granville Red Cross
unit held in the headquarters rooms
the other evening, plans for the membership drive to be begun November 2 were fully discussed and the campaign outlined. It was pointed out by the chairman, Mrs. Frank Ray, that any local contribution, in addition to the dollar membership fee will be regarded as one's individual health insurance.
While fifty per cent of the membership fee must go to the national headquarters fund to be used in times of disaster, the remaining 50 per cent is retained by the home chapter for the support of its public health nurse. Already this public health service has commenced itself to the Granville community and the drive is confidently expected to net at least a 100 per cent membership. The rooms are attractively fitted up by friends of the unit interested in the work and it is the purpose of the board to use the chapter funds in the purchase of furnishings. Mrs. J. S. Jones presented a fine desk for the office and several of the younger women the such curtains and portieres. The King's Daughters are helping to store the loan closet and things are working satisfactorily, other necessary articles having been promised. The board includes representative women from the various clubs, and several were prominently identified with community work,
whose names will appear in Wednesday's issue of the Advocate.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX,
AUTHOR AND POET, DIES

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—Mrs.
Ella Wheeler Wilcox, author and poet-ess, died here home, "The Engallow," in Branford today. Mrs. Wilcox had been ill for some months, having had a nervous collapse while engaged in war relief work in England.

Her death was not unexpected to those who shared the section of her home. The exact nature of her final illness is not stated. Mrs. Wilcox had been constantly under medical care for nine months. During her illness overseas messages to friends indicated that she despaired of recovery.

She regained in a measure her strength and in July was brought to
New York and then to Branford in fulfillment of a desire to be in her own home, the place wherein most of her literary work had been done, and where with Mr. Wilcox she had entertained friends from all over the world.
Mrs. Wilcox was in her sixty-fourth year and was a native of Johnstown Center, Wisconsin. She was married to Mr. Wilcox in 1884. Her literary work embraced a large number of books, both prose and poetry, and she was a contributor to many publications.

EMPLOYERS' CITATIONS.

November 11th, first anniversary of Armistice day, has been set by the office of the assistant to the secretary of war, in charge of soldier employment, as the final date for applications for the citation issued jointly by the war and navy departments to all employers who have taken back their men, or who stand ready to re-employ them. Letters postmarked after midnight of this day cannot be considered by the service and information branch, which is in charge of the issuance of the certificate.

Some 40,000 of these citations have been already granted to corporations, firms and individual employers who have put themselves on record with the war department. They are now members of the Legion of Patriotic Employers, started in May of this year. The citation which each one has received is in the form of a handsome document, suitable for framing, signed by the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy. It shows that the recipient has pledged himself to keep faith with all his employees who entered the army or the navy in defense of the country during the war.

The time limit is now set. There is yet opportunity to make an application. Employers who consider themselves eligible for a citation should address Lieutenant Colonel M. C. Smith, Council of National Defense Building, Washington, D. C., stating that they have taken back all who formerly worked for them, or stand ready to do so.

P. W. Faust, O. G. Hand and Walter D. Welker—these are the Democratic candidates for councilmen at large. They are men of good standing in the community and are worthy of support at next Tuesday's election.

The question is asked why automobiles generally run with tops up now—alays? Well, the occupants don't seem to mind much about sun or rain, but a good strong top helps them keep inside the car while going over bumps.

The city council never had a more capable presiding officer than the present incumbent R. L. Williams, who seeks re-election on November 4. One good term deserves another.

Election day comes next Tuesday "Gus" Atherton has given Newark a good administration and he deserves re-election as mayor of this city.

WOMEN AND THE WEST.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Presidential primaries are but six months away, yet there is complete uncertainty in both Republican and Democratic ranks as to who is likely to be chosen head of the national ticket. Not often has the country approached the end of the year preceding the great quadrennial political event with sentiment so thoroughly unorganized.

Not a little depends upon the outcome of the fight over the treaty and league of nations covenant in the senate. Hiram Johnson has burned all bridges behind him in the effort to amend or destroy the pact. He is today the main figure in mind when discussing the presidential nomination of his party. However, if the west is as favorably inclined toward the league of nations as unbiased observers insist Johnson cannot hope to have his way to the presidency by his present bitter policy against league and pact.

On the Democratic side the name most often mentioned has been that of William G. McAduoo, though within a few weeks another has edged into the limelight. Henry Hoover's unostentatious return to America, after hectic labors in Europe, and his prompt declaration in favor of early ratification of peace brings him into the circle of national gossip. Hoover, like Hiram Johnson, is a Californian and a progressive; whether he has ever considered himself a Democrat or not, no one seems to know. Between Johnson and Hoover the west would have opportunity to decide the fate of the league of nations, touching the league of nations, without in either case turning against a favorite son.

The west decided the last presidential election, smashing a precedent in fact since the foundation of the republic. It is likely to decide the election next year. Furthermore, even without the ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, women will vote next year in the twenty-five states and help elect 260 members of the electoral college—only six less than a majority.

Obviously, it behooves both parties to nominate candidates for president who have the confidence both of the women of America and of the west generally. Backers of mere favorite sons must reckon with these considerations.

BENIGN DESPOTISM IM-POSSIBLE.

(Ohio State Journal)
A conservative, wise direction of our activities by union leaders might be desirable just as some autocracies of the past have been. But the government having its advantages, the trouble being they will not long remain conservative or benign.

The spectacle of labor chiefs who in the past have stood for sane politics, forced by the radicals with their own ranks into positions, their own consciences must criticize, marks the inevitable result of the universal unionism now contemplated.

To have the leadership even well intentioned men would be forced to the border of terrorism, ultimately to be destroyed by successors of the Lenin and Trotsky type.

The present strike situation is forced from below by ambitious subleaders who hope to usurp the power of those now in charge.

That the Persians were the first to introduce saddles? Saddles of a similar shape to those now in use were not known till the 14th century and side saddles were introduced about 1388. Stirrups were used in the 5th century but not common until the 12th. It is said that the Numidians and Mauritians rode their horses without either bit or saddle, and guided them solely by using a small switch, which was applied to either side of the neck, according to the wish to turn.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX.

(St. Louis Times)
In urging the repeal of the excess profits tax the Investment Bankers' Association was reflecting the views of all who have studied that fearfully and wonderfully devised system of inequity, rightly and responsibly known as the high cost of living. As Senator Owens told the American Bankers' Convention about the only tax that cannot be "passed on" accumulatively through various agencies to the ultimate consumer is the excess profits tax. But there are degrees in "passing on," and the excess profits tax has all others excelled. Each "passer on" always adds more or less for safety's sake, to a straight consumption tax would really be easier.

But there are other inequities. In the first place, there is no theory to justify a graduated tax in corporations. A graduated tax should be laid on incomes with distinction between active and "lazy" ones, as a matter of public policy. Stagnation is the tendency of encouraging "lazy" incomes. Hazardous enterprises, to which the world is greatly indebted, are greatly discouraged by a graduated tax. It is a case of the enterprise losing or the government winning. There must be prospects of gain for each stockholder to induce the organization of such enterprises.

The excess profits tax depends on capital, and no equitable method of ascertaining it has ever been devised. It would take weeks of work by trained accountants to find out the actual investment of a large establishment that had been long in business. The "family" corporations, built up through long years of careful nurture, are hardest hit. The small concern with its investment made up of a few hundred shares, while a competing concern, which acquired its patents by purchase for a large sum, escapes the graduated tax. The act, as originally interpreted by "experts" who found it impossible to carry out, has stood showed many such inequities. These were eliminated from the present law. But there are still too many and the whole tendency, as we have observed, is to "pass the tax on." With fully $30,000,000.00 of practice tax free securities outstanding, besides the government's own bonds, it is dangerous to preserve in a policy that drives money from active into lazy investment, through there is little prospect of reduction in taxation, the excess profits tax should be repealed and other rates changed or other sources found.

Rumanians Leaving.
If all the Rumanians who it is believed, are soon to leave the United States were gathered together, it is estimated that they would constitute a city of about 100,000 inhabitants. It would be an unusual city, for most of the inhabitants would be of European extraction, having no family in the United States, is not readily Americanized. New York City is said to have a temporary colony of some 10,000 waiting for the exodus. The return is not particularly surprising, for the Rumanians, having no family in the United States, is not readily Americanized. Go Back to First Principles.
In his "Recollections" John Morley quotes this as a frequently repeated saying of John Stuart Mill: "The future of mankind will be gravely imperiled if great questions are left to be fought out between Ignorant Change and Ignorant Opposition to Change." In its opposition to the closed shop and other demands of labor the employers are forced where they have a choice between organized labor, in demanding its "rights" is doing the same. Should neither or both persist we would be exactly where we were before. The Industrial Conference must find a way for Capital and Labor to bargain, despite the rival claim of "rights." The right of extending or refusing recognition to unions must be retained by employers, and workers should continue to enjoy the "right" of organizing, or refusing to organize, but this does not preclude an arrangement which should facilitate bargaining over labor, wages and working conditions.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Plea for Belgium.
Editor of the Advocate—While America is playing such high honors to King Albert and Cardinal Mercier what ought we to think of the United States senators and other men in high places, who are virtually declaring in the ears of these distinguished visitors, that the United States must enter into no agreement or covenant to protect their country from any future aggression such as little Belgium suffered during four long years, last, forthwith, we lose our "independence" and "sovereignty" as well. They would either have been trampled under their feet, or would have been maintained at the price of blood and treasure to which the mind of mortal man could find no measure or limit.
O Belgium, Belgium, when I realize the immeasurable debt which "we, the people of the United States," owe to you—when I consider the agonies of crucifixion which you have endured in the world behalf, if I should ever forget you and the service which you rendered to my country and the mankind, let my right hand forget her cunning. And although I am only one of the one hundred million inhabitants of the United States if my feeble voice should ever be raised to refuse to you the promise and pledge of full assurance of my government's protection through all future years let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth and let me perish from the earth, I will nevertheless and forevermore can it be possible that we will send these visitors home without any promise of protection for their country?
Having served three full years in the rank and file of the union army during the civil war, I recognize no man's "Americanism or Patriotism" as superior to my own and I cherish the "independence" and the "sovereignty" of

Y HAS BIG PROBLEMS FOR INTERNAT. MEET

A number of Newark Y. M. C. A. men have signified an interest in the 40th international convention of the Young Men's Christian association to be held at Detroit in November. The convention, according to Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the international committee, is the most important in its history as regards the vital matters it must act on.

Developments of greater activities in city associations, in rural communities, in industrial work, the educational field, railroad work, and among colleges will be among the topics of discussion.

The needs of association work in countries heretofore unaware of the association's value will be considered. "With the ending of the war, with the disclosing of the stupendous changes wrought by the unparalleled struggle and with the reopening of the entire world for the resumption of peaceful, constructive work, we find doors standing ajar on every hand and in virtually every part of the world. How to respond to these world-wide demands, while discharging the great home field trust, which unmistakably has prior claim upon us, is a matter calling for prompt and earnest concert of thought and action."

Such men as George W. Perkins, Cyrus H. McCormick, Governor Carl Milliken of Maine, Lewis A. Crosscut of Boston, John D. Rockefeller, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, and other leading educators, business and professional men and pastors from all parts of the United States and abroad are serving on commissions which will be heard at this convention.

Exhibits of Y. M. C. A. work in camps, industrial centers and in almost every phase of activity will help to stimulate interest in some of the newer branches of the work.

Jos. N. Pugh and Dr. C. L. Wyeth are making arrangements for this convention which will run from Nov. 19 to 23. Other men of the board are considering attendance but have not yet made definite arrangements. Mr. A. H. Light, state Y. M. C. A. secretary, will represent the Newark branch as a voting delegate.

PROSECUTION TO FOLLOW

CAMP SHERMAN PROBE

Columbus, Oct. 30.—Probe of the construction of Camp Sherman on the coast-plus basis, begun here yesterday by a congressional sub-committee, was continued today. The investigation will continue for the remainder of the week, members of the committee stated.

Criticism of witnesses examined yesterday was directed against the A. Bentley and Sons company, of Toledo, which built the major portion of the camp. Members of the committee said they expect the testimony to lead to both criminal and civil prosecutions. Inefficiency, mismanagement and extravagance were charged by all of the witnesses except Major General E. P. Glenn, commanding the cantonment.

Officers and civilians alike testified that the camp could have been built more quickly and far more cheaply by the government. Charges of grafting, wastage of material, of orders to keep busy while inspectors were around, but otherwise to go slow, and of hiding hundreds of idle laborers were made.

Telephone Service.

REWARD FOR EFFICIENT MANAGEMENT.

Under the present plan of making telephone rates in Ohio there is only one reward for efficient management of a telephone property, that is to allow the company with such management to make a fair return upon the investment actually made in the plant.

This company is efficiently managed; it does give good telephone service—none better.

The amount of its outstanding stocks and bonds is less than the actual investment in its plant.

The owners of its stocks and bonds receive 6 and 7 per cent return on their investment. No appreciable surplus is piled up in addition.

It takes the present rate for telephone service to do this.

Is not the efficiently managed Newark Telephone Company entitled to the reward of paying its stock and bond holders 6 and 7 per cent? That's all the financial reward anybody is getting out of it.

Eyebrows and Lashes.

Eyebrows and lashes help, in great measure, to give expression to the face. To be beautiful and remain so, they require attention. The eyebrows may be cultivated to grow in any way you wish. When they are inclined to be weak and delicate in their growth they should be brushed two or three times a day with a narrow brush, always first brushing them up and then from the nose to the end of the brow.

Never use a harsh brush or you will brush the hairs out, rather than to stimulate those already there. If the eyebrows are inclined to be thin, a little vaseline should be rubbed upon them with the tips of the fingers every night before retiring. Vaseline will make the lashes grow long, but care should be taken to rub them very gently and without letting any of the vaseline get into the eyes.

It is a generally known fact that petroleum jelly will cause hair to grow, and petroleum is the foundation of vaseline. There are many women who suffer from an overabundance of eyebrows and nothing makes the face look heavier and more dingy than spreading vaseline over the brows. There are two ways of changing that effect.

One is to have the eyebrows shaved gently and promptly into a graceful line and the other is to pull out the superfluous hair with the tweezers. This must be done very carefully. The brows should first be rubbed with a cleansing cream, then bathed with hot water. This opens the pores of the skin and they become soft. The hairs should be pulled out one at a time, each hair from the way it grows and not against it.

To Improve the Figure.

Fifteen minutes a day devoted to stretching the muscles will do a great deal toward taking off superfluous flesh and building up impoverished tissues. It should be remembered, however, that severe exercise should not be taken directly after eating. An hour after a meal is the best time. In order to secure the best results from any exercise the room should be filled with fresh air and all tight clothing should be removed.

A splendid exercise that will develop the arms and legs and expand the chest is to kneel on the floor and stretch the right leg back as far as possible, the right arm being down and the left arm up to the furthest limit. Then do the same with the left leg, with the right arm up and the left arm down.

To prevent fat from accumulating about the waist, rest on the hands and toes, face downward on the floor and then stretch the head and body as far as you can. Another movement that makes the muscles of the lower limbs firm, is to rest on the palms of the hands and the soles of the feet, face upward. Raise one leg slowly and stretch it as far as you can, then repeat with the other leg.

After you have done these several times, lie flat on the floor and stretch the legs until they are straight and stretch out. Then lower the legs and raise the body to a sitting position. Do this without the assistance of the elbows. Another exercise is to extend straight, stretch the arms out in front as far as you can and slowly swing the arms to the side until they are in line with the shoulders. Stretch each arm, first to one side and then to the other.

Our Boys and Girls

When a baby is suffering from a cold don't administer a sleeping potion and imagine that you are reaching the seat of the trouble. Don't give medicine, while the child is sleeping so heavily under the influence of the opiate that you cannot notice the aggravated symptoms.

If baby shows a tendency to take cold on the slightest provocation, follow his daily bath with an alcoholic rub. Many babies treated in this way are absolutely free from colds. If the baby wakes out of sleep with a sudden, hoarse, barking cough, this is not an ordinary cold, but croup.

If the child breathes stentoriously, if it has a whistling cough, sharp and shrill, look out for capillary bronchitis, the most dangerous diseases for babies. In either case take the child at once into a warm room where no draft can strike it and send for a doctor. After the first attack of croup a young mother will know just how to act.

There are many children who are merely not rugged and who require only a little special care, nourishment and well directed exercise to keep them well. Of course the parents should be a watchful guardian against their over-exertion and the strain of ill that result from overeating or the wrong kind of a diet, which is just as bad as too much eating, or too little.

The mother of such a child, at once will do well to make a study of food values. She should learn the relative merits of carbohydrates and nitrocheinous foods. She should find out what sort of nourishment furnishes fat, what flesh and bone muscle. She will not give a pale, frail child, who needs whole wheat and milk, all the starchy bread and cake it craves, not to the thin, sallow child who ought to have baked potatoes, bread and butter and a reasonable amount of sugar, the beef steak and pickles it seems to wish for.

Everyday Etiquette

"During the reception and breakfast at the bride's home should the women of her family keep on their hats?" questioned Mrs. Black.

"Hats may be worn by all of the women at the reception and breakfast," helped her older friend Mrs. White.

"If a family build a new home in a new neighborhood, who makes the first call. The neighbor or the people of the new home?" asked Mrs. Jones.

"It is almost without exception, for the older residents to make the first call upon the newcomer in a neighborhood," replied her mother.

QUAKER QUIPS.

(Philadelphia Record)

"Perhaps it's because blood is thicker than water that the sluggish is inclined to go to his aunt."

"The old fashioned lover used to say: 'Will you be mine?' The modern swain puts it: 'May I be yours?'"

"Blood will tell my boy," said the impoverished aristocrat. "Still, many a man with a coat-of-arms wears trousers that bag in the knees," retorted Mr. Pheasant.

"The new joke writer seems to have a biting wit," said the editor. "I'll say he has," replied the copy reader, wearily. "I can tell the exact age of most of his jokes by looking at their teeth."

Tartar on Teeth

Shows That You Don't Clean Them—Note These Facts

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

This is to men and women who find that brushed teeth discolor and decay. Who find that tartar forms, or pyorrhea starts. You are not keeping teeth clean. You let a film remain and the damage is traced to it.

Dental science has found a way to end film. It is now embodied in a dainty tooth paste which millions are employing. We urge you to try it ten days at our cost and see the results for yourself.

That Film on Teeth

Can Now Be Ended in This Way

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film, ever-present, ever-forming. That film is the great tooth wrecker. Dental science now traces nearly all tooth troubles to it.

The film clings to the teeth, gets between the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush does not end it. The ordinary dentifrice does not dissolve it. So millions find that teeth discolor and decay despite the daily brushing.

Why Teeth Discolor

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Dental science, after years of searching, has found a way to combat film. Many able authorities have proved its efficiency. For five years it has been subjected to every sort of clinical and laboratory test.

Now, for home use, it is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Leading dentists all over America are now urging its adoption. This week we offer a 10-Day Tube to anyone who asks. And we urge that someone in every home prove its unique effects.

Based on Pepsin

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. Dental science has now discovered a harmless activating method. And now everyone can fight the film with active pepsin constantly.

See What It Does

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Use like any tooth paste. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Watch the results and read the reason for them. Compare this new method with the old. Then adopt for yourself and have your children adopt the method which seems best. This is of lifetime importance to you. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

Look Now

That film, to some extent, clouds nearly every set of teeth. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Look in Ten Days

See how the teeth whiten—how they glisten—as the fixed film disappears. Then you will know there is a way to cleaner, safer teeth.

St. Louis Man

"My nerves were so weakened that I was practically a wreck," says Mr. Harry H. Flock, of No. 2510 West Sullivan avenue, St. Louis, Mo. "I had had a severe attack of typhoid fever and it left me badly run down and unable to recover my strength. I suffered from frequent nervous headaches and they became so bad at times that I was forced to go to bed. I also had a dull ache in my legs and was so nervous that I couldn't sleep and had chills and depression. I was sleepy during the day at my work and sometimes I was overcome by dizzy spells."

"I had been under treatment for some time but nothing seemed to reach the cause of my trouble until one day I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the remedy for a short time my condition showed so much improvement that I determined to give the remedy a thorough trial. As a result my nerves regained their strength, my appetite improved and I am able to sleep soundly at night. I seldom have headaches and the dizzy spells are gone."

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO PROTECT LOYAL MINERS

Washington, Oct. 30.—Government machinery is primed and set today to deal with the strike of half a million soft coal miners which is called for Saturday.

After a policy of patience, with the hope that the strike would be avoided, agencies of the government came to the fore when the miners' organization at Indianapolis, by failing to withdraw the strike order, placed the country face to face with the prospects of a dearth of fuel at the approach of winter and the idleness of a vast horde of workmen.

Means for the protection of the public and of those miners, who are not in sympathy with the strike are provided under the government's program. Plans are drawn for the revival of the price control regions suspended when the fuel administration was dissolved on February 1, which gives assurance against profiteering and may mean the early drop in the price of coal. Enforcement of the food and fuel control law with its criminal penalties of fine and imprisonment are to be enforced under the government's plan on those miners who go on strike and thereby curtail production. In announcing the plans, Attorney General Palmer said they did not affect the right of workers to strike for redress of grievances in other cases where no violation of the law is involved.

Other moves by the government are being considered.

LABOR DELEGATES TO ADMIT ENEMY ENVOYS

Washington, Oct. 30.—The first subject on today's program of the international labor conference, in session here to promote the importance of working conditions throughout the world, was the settlement of the question of admission of German and Austrian representatives to the conference. Delegates seemed generally agreed that the former powers should be admitted without delay.

Secretary of Labor Wilson, who presided over the opening session, was recommended by the organizing committee as permanent chairman. "During the period of organization," No opposition to his confirmation today was looked for in view of the universal custom that chairmen for international assemblies be chosen from the nation acting as host.

The United States will be represented unofficially in the conference through Secretary Wilson. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor is named as the workers' delegate and the selection of the employer delegate rests with Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who is to announce today his decision.

Separate group meetings of governmental employees and workers' delegates proceed the opening of the second session of the conference.

NEW DEVICE AIDS AIRPLANE LANDING

Dayton, Oct. 30.—Announcement from McCook aviation field yesterday that successful tests have been made with a reversible airplane propeller means, according to officials, that the day of the "back yard" airplane is here. With the new propeller, airplanes can land and be brought to a stop within fifty feet by actual test. The new device will also increase the climbing speed of an airplane 40 per cent and permit of higher altitude flying 50,000 feet being a possible limit. Seth Hart, of Los Angeles, Cal., is the inventor of the propeller.

EASTERN KENTUCKY MINES MAY OPERATE

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 30.—Eastern and northwestern Kentucky miners, who produce eight million tons of coal annually, probably will not be affected by the strike, if it goes into effect. While ununited, their union has never been recognized by the United Mine Workers of America, and probably all will continue to work. Western Kentucky would probably find its 20,000 miners striking as all are organized by the U. M. W. If some sections of Kentucky not organized keep at work, they can supply a large market, as cars could then be supplied and coal sent out without delay.

OPERATE 9 FURNACES IN CARNEGIE PLANT

Youngstown, Oct. 30.—Following resumption of more departments at three steel mills here last night, the Ohio works of the Carnegie Steel company today blew in another blast furnace, making a total of nine furnaces out of 19 working in the four big mills of Youngstown proper. Another finishing mill for the Carnegie company also was operating today, making seven out of its 12 departments in operation.

Picketing was more active this morning after a lull of several days and a negro, alleged to be a strike breaker was beaten by strike sympathizers near the Carnegie plant. He was not seriously injured.

OVERCOAT WEEK!!

New style ideas that conform to your taste

NO one particular, or general style can be modeled with a definite appeal to all men. Fashion preferences are not always governed by the age, the position, or the income of a man. Some middle-aged men like to wear young men's clothes; some young men are quite sedate in their style tendencies. Our variety is so broad in models, patterns and textures that any well-grounded clothes idea can be gratified here. The only two things that all our clothes are similar in is noticeable—quality and value.

"OVERCOAT WEEK" brings to you rich, rare weaves in single and double breasted, many with belt and waist-seam effects, close-fitting models, Chesterfields, Ulsterettes, luxurious great-coats—the big idea in big roomy coats with storm collars. Styles that are exclusive.

Friendly Enemies.
The success of "Friendly Enemies," the international comedy which A. H. Woods will present at the Auditorium business acumen and judgment of A. H. Woods. It is not generally known that Mr. Woods purchased the play before a line of it was written. Samuel Shipman, who evolved the story, came to Mr. Woods one day and told him that he had an idea for a play. Mr. Woods heard the story, paid the author an advance royalty and instructed him to deliver the manuscript for immediate production.

It is said that Mr. Shipman called up his collaborator, Aaron Hoffman, then and there from Mr. Woods' office and the play was sold and that nothing remained for the two authors but to write it. It seems that Mr. Shipman and Mr. Hoffman had previously discussed it and had vainly endeavored to interest some theatrical manager in the idea. It is said that on one occasion the authors and the stars had play was in rehearsal and on February 25th, 1919 it opened in Atlantic City. Its success was instantaneous. Since that time it has been playing continuously on three continents and has established itself as by far the greatest theatrical property in the history of the theater. Seats now selling.

The Right to Happiness.
In these days when moving picture super-productions are becoming frequent if not common, and the use of superlatives in their description has reached a point where the English dictionary has been stripped of all its glittering adjectives, it takes a picture of outstanding importance to create a ripple of attention.

Such a picture is the Universal-Telvel production "The Right to Happiness," an eight-reel photodrama to be shown at the Auditorium, Friday, which has been aptly described as the greatest love story ever told.

Owing to the great success of the above feature Tuesday and Wednesday Manager Fenberg will hold the print

"Oh, My Dear," Comstock and Elliott production, opened a two days engagement at the Court Theater last night. Freckles.

Gene Stratton-Porter's popular and fascinating story "Freckles," in music drama form, comes to the Auditorium on Election Day afternoon and evening.

Neil Towney, who dramatized Mrs. Porter's charming story has evolved a powerful and interest-compelling song play from a tale whose chief charms lie in its tender simplicity and unaffected naturalness, and at the same time has retained all of the familiar characters and important incidents of the story.

Election returns are to be read.

"The City of Comrades." Frank Melbury is first seen as a derelict, a prey to his craving for liquor, homeless and friendless save for the devoted companionship of an old man called "Lovey" (Otto Hoffman) because of his dog-like devotion to Frank. It is difficult to believe that the young man has once had splendid prospects as an architect, with all the advantages of family and education.

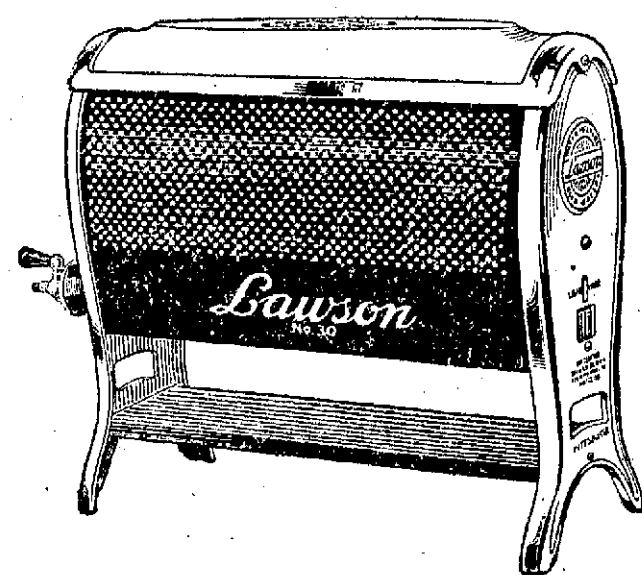

Persuaded by "Lovey" and because both are hungry, Frank plans to rob a wealthy home. Leaving the boudoir where he has found jewels of great value, the odor of food tempts Frank to explore the kitchen. There he finds once his appetite is appeased, returns upstairs to restore the jewels. He is confronted by Regina Barry. Sensing that he is no common burglar, she allows him to leave unmolested.

This is the turning point of Frank's

COSSACK DEMON TO MEET BOWSER

Russian Heavy Weight Wrestler to Oppose Newark Man In Opening Match Next Week.

The opening of the wrestling season is carded for the Auditorium theater one week from tonight, when Ivan Michailoff, Cossack Demon, meets Paul Bowser and agrees to throw him one fall in one hour actual wrestling time. Although this will be Bowser's first appearance at home it will be his third this season. He journeyed to Delaware last Friday night and defeated Lee Hendricks a 190 heavyweight from the northwest. Last Monday night in Flint, Mich., and defeated the pride of the copper country up there. The match took place in the Palace theater and the left hand box was entirely filled with Newark boys who are working at Flint and they gave Paul a rousing reception when he was introduced and cheered him all through the match.

Soon after Bowser's return home last fall he was taken with the flu and this handicapped him to a certain extent. This season he has returned after a summer's outing in the best of health and in company with Bill Gallagher is taking daily morning runs of four to six miles and doing his work on the mat at 5 o'clock daily.

This match with Ivan Michailoff is an experiment as Bowser now tips the beam at 175 and the weight doesn't seem to come off but turns to muscle. If he is successful in this match wrestling around 170 to 175 lbs. it is possible that Bowser won't try to make the middle-weight limit on more than one or two occasions this season but will battle with the heavier men.

Bill Gallagher, who Bowser thinks the best 145 pound boy he has ever developed, will meet Walter Hamilton of Columbus, in a finish contest as a semi-final. Gallagher will meet all comers this year up to his weight either or out of town and is confident if he doesn't beat his man the fans will see a real wrestling match.

Bowser will open his usual gym class starting Monday evening and running from 7 till 8:30 o'clock.

CLUB STUDIES LISZT'S WORKS

Women's Music Club Holds
Meeting at Byrn Du Farm
—Fine Program Is Rendered.

(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, Oct. 30.—There were few
absentees of the Women's Music club
Wednesday afternoon when the roll
was called in the spacious drawing room at "Byrn Du" at the call of the president, Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain.
Amidst beautiful surroundings—exquisite roses, and magnificent chrysanthemums shutting out the memory of the heavy rainfall outside—the company assembled abandoned themselves
to the joy of listening to an exquisite program artistically rendered.

Franz Liszt, composer and reformer
in music, Hungarian by birth, a social lion of brilliant gifts and wonderful attainments, the product of the last century, furnished the theme of the interesting lecture by Mrs. C. B. White, and selections from his work constituted the musical program of the afternoon.

The orchestral effects of the Dante
Symphony were wonderfully brought out by Mrs. White and Mrs. Mabel
Ashton; Miss Larkin and Mrs. Darrow
on the two Steinway Grands, the three movements, Inferno, Purgatorio and Paradiso furnishing some tremendous descriptive effects, thrilling but not altogether soothing; Mrs. Ernest Shepardson sang the ever beautiful "O Wonderous Rapture." Mrs. C. D. Coons,
after her long rest, was heard with
pleasure in the "Wanderer's Night Song," and Mrs. W. Rohrer presented a group, "The Art Lake, Under a Flower" and "The Lark,"—the latter one of the most perfect specimens of the composers art. Mrs. Mabel Ashton played the "Love Dream No. 2,"
with its exquisite singing quality. Mrs.
Rogers sang "The Fisher Boy,"
with its lure of the water, and Mrs.
Theodore Johnson gave "Mignon's
Song" with its yearning and longing
admirably brought out. "Sonetto del Peravea," a love song originally intended for the voice, and the "Dance
of the Gnomes" were given with characteristic finish and musical feeling by Miss Bessie Larkin, the Newark member of the club. Two three-part songs,
"The Bonds Are Fallen," from St.
Elizabeth and "Chorus of Reapers,"
from Prometheus, closed the program,
with rounds of applause for the singers: Miss Spencer, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs.
Shepardson, Mrs. Ullman, Mrs. Love-
less, Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Ebaugh,
Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Carey Jones,
Mrs. White and Mrs. Darrow were ac-
companists.

Guests were: Miss McCully of Dayton, Mrs. Gale Seaman, Los Angeles,
Cal.; Mrs. C. J. Eddy, Billings, Montana; Mrs. Carl H. Galt, Mrs. Ira Perry and Mrs. Edison H. Rupp. Several new members, both active and associate,
were welcomed by Mrs. Chamberlain in a brief talk in which she presented the aims and aspirations of the club.

Miss Cully was invited to speak on the organization of county and state
by the women of the suffrage association in their efforts to secure the signatures of those forming equal suffrage. Her talk was brief but effective
and the members responded after the program by the required signatures.

The women of the Methodist church
will serve their annual election-day
chicken supper next Tuesday evening
from 4:30 to 7.

Mrs. John McGinn, Mrs. John S.
Griffin and Mrs. Lucy E. Van Kirk
attended the Methodist mission convention held in Brownsville last Saturday.

Mrs. Christine Cook opened her home in College street Wednesday
evening for the Halloween entertainment given by the young people of the Epworth League of the Methodist church.

James F. Roudabush, called the best forward pass that Denison ever had,
has gone in again for football from
which he had withdrawn on account
of the condition of his eyes.

At an informal meeting of the executive board of the Granville Red Cross
unit held in the headquarters rooms
the other evening, plans for the membership drive to begin on November 2,
were fully discussed and the campaign outlined. It was pointed out by the chairman, Mrs. Frank Ray, that any local contribution, in addition to the dollar membership fee, will be devoted to local needs and must be regarded as one individual health insurance.

While fifty per cent of the membership fee must go to the national headquarters fund to be used in times of disaster, the remaining 50 per cent is retained by the home chapter for the support of its public health nurse. Already this public health service has commended itself to the Granville community and the drive is confidently expected to net at least a 100 per cent membership. The rooms are attractively fitted up by friends of the unit interested in the work and it is the purpose of the board to use no chapter funds in the purchase of furnishings. Mrs. J. S. Jones presented a time desk for the office and the presentation of the younger women and several clubs, and several were prominently
identified with community work,
whose names will appear in Wednesday's issue of the Advocate.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX,
AUTHOR AND POET, DIES

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—Mrs.
Ella Wheeler Wilcox, author and poet-ess, died at her home, "The Bungalow," in Branford today. Mrs. Wilcox had been ill for some months, having had a nervous collapse while engaged in war
relief work in England.

Her death was not unexpected to those who shared the seclusion of her home. The exact nature of her final illness is not stated. Mrs. Wilcox had been constantly under medical care for nine months. During her illness overseas messages to friends indicated that she despaired of recovery.

She resided in a measure her strength and in July was brought to
New York and then to Branford in fulfillment of a desire to be in her own home, the place wherein most of her literary work had been done, and where with Mr. Wilcox she had intertained friends from all over the world.

Mrs. Wilcox was in her sixty-fourth year and was a native of Johnstown Center, Wisconsin. She was married to Mr. Wilcox in 1884. Her literary work embraced a large number of books, both prose and poetry, and who was a contributor to many publications.

Beautiful Cloakings For Those Who Intend Making Their New Coat

We know that scores of women will be making their own coats as well as coats for the children, and its not to be wondered at, when one sees how pretty the materials and colorings are this season.

YOU CAN MAKE A STYLISH COAT

at a great saving, if you can make it yourself. Just figure how much material it will take, and as these cloakings are all so wide, it does not require more than three and a half to four yards, and about the same quality of lining. Then all you need are the thread, buttons and a Dutterick pattern, and if you prefer collar and cuffs of pretty fur fabric, the cost of this will be very small.

THE ABERDEEN CLOAKINGS AT $3.50 YARD

are 56 inches wide, and come in dark-mixtures, similar to English tweed effects.

DOUBLE-FACED ZIBELINES AT $4.50 YARD

This pretty cloth has zibelina finish on one side and a smooth satin finish on the other. 54 inches wide. Colors are brown—plum—green—navy.

FANCY PLAID VELOURS AT $4.50 YARD

This is another double faced cloth, alike on both sides—shown in grey with fancy plaid of blue—green with purple plaid.

FOR CHILDREN'S COATS A VELOUR BROADCLOTH AT $3.00 YARD

A 50 inch cloth that will make stylish coats for the little ones—Shown in brown, green and taupe.

OR YOU MAY LIKE—A pretty Diagonal Suiting in Reindeer Shade at $4.50 yard.

A Bonnie Brae Jersey in a fancy weave is shown at $4.00 yard.

FOR THE LINING OF THE COAT

We know of nothing that will give such an attractive finish as well as give good service at the 36 inch Skinner's Satin, which comes in plain shades.

NOW FOR THE TRIMMINGS

Buttons of course are necessary and in fact form the main trimming. You may use one or more sizes—large ones for fastening and smaller ones for use on collar, cuffs, belt, etc. Our button department contains a beautiful line of fancy buttons in various colors.

COLLAR OR COLLAR AND MUFFS MAY BE OF FUR FABRIC

It may be plush, broadtail or mole cloth, anyone of which will add to the beauty of the coat. These fabrics are so wide that only a small quantity is required.

MINERS SAY RESPONSIBILITY FOR STRIKE RESTS ON OPERATORS

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—Officials of the United Mine Workers of America last night issued the following statement to the public:

The conference of United Mine Workers, composed of members of the international executive board, the local committee of the central competitive district, and the district presidents, United Mine Workers of America, gave most profound consideration to the statement of the president of the United States which appeared in the public press recently relative to the impending strike of bituminous miners set for Nov. 1.

No communication was received by the international officers of the United Mine Workers of America from either the president or any representative of the federal government.

A canvass of the entire situation shows a strike of bituminous miners cannot be avoided. A regularly constituted convention of representatives of the United Mine Workers held at Cleveland on Sept. 25 ordered a strike of bituminous mine workers to become effective Nov. 1 in the event a wage scale was not negotiated before that time.

The highest authority in the organization has acted in this manner, and no representatives of the organization have authority to set such action aside. The facts are that the same supreme authority which ordered the pending strike is the same as that which approved the contract which has now expired.

The responsibility for the strike rests with the coal operators. They have refused to negotiate a wage agreement, notwithstanding the fact the mine workers' representatives have urged and beseeched them to do so.

The fundamental causes which prompted the mine workers to take this drastic action are deep-seated. For two years their wages have remained stationary. They appealed one year ago to the federal fuel administrator, Dr. Garfield, and from him to the president of the United States, for an increase in wages sufficient to meet the increase in the cost of the necessities of life.

Their appeal was rejected and their request refused. Notwithstanding this, they continued mining coal until now, their contract expires, and they are determined that their grievances must be adjusted in a reasonably satisfactory manner.

The courts have held that the workmen have a right to strike and may quit work, either singly or collectively, for the purpose of redressing grievances and guaranteeing of this free government give men the right to work or quit work individually or collectively.

The mine workers therefore are but exercising the right guaranteed by the constitution and which cannot be taken away by the representatives of government, when they quit work or when they refuse to work until their grievances are adjusted.

We assert that the mine workers have no other purpose in view—other than to secure a working wage agreement. All of their demands are incorporated in the wage proposal submitted to the coal operators and each and all are subject to negotiation.

Conscious of the grave responsibility resting on the representatives of the coal miners, we have no other alternative than to carry out the instructions of the United Mine Workers convention. This issue has been made, and it must be settled on the field of industrial battle. The responsibility rests fairly and squarely on the coal barons alone.

A few of the district presidents and members of the scale committee remained over for today's meeting, but most of them were enroute to their home districts to direct the locals in putting the strike into effect. The two dozen members of the executive board were left to clear the decks of the flagship for action.

Just what action might be taken by the executive board was not indicated. It was stated that in addition to the strike business considerable routine had accumulated since the last meeting of the board and that this would have to be disposed of.

Union officials were still inclined today to rest their case on the statement issued last night by the conference. In that statement the attitude of the federal administration was said to have received earnest consideration but the union leaders pointed out that Washington had been silent so far as they were officially concerned and that they had been compelled to depend upon newspaper accounts for their knowledge of President Wilson's attitude.

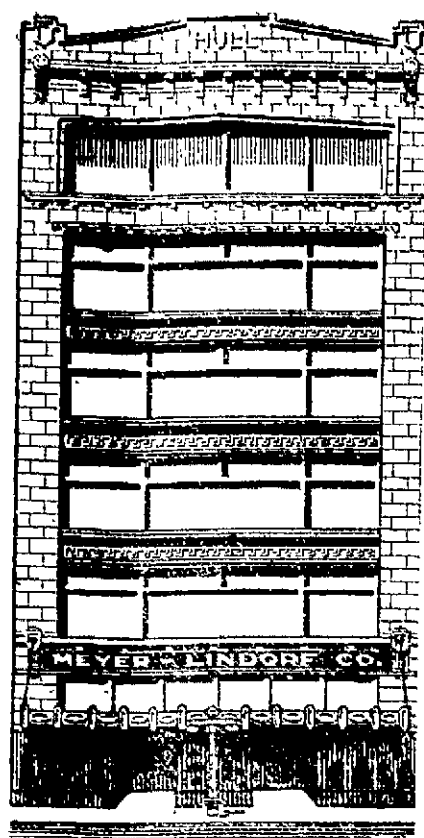

The organized forces also reiterated its mood so far as overtures for negotiations with the operators were concerned. In fact the statement placed the blame for the strike flatly upon the mine owners' shoulders and asserted that they alone were responsible for the unprecedented situation which confronts the industry.

Had the operators followed the traditions of the coal mining industry and agreed to "talk across the table" an agreement could probably have been reached in the weeks intervening between the Cleveland convention and the strike date, the union men said.

The statement, in language so terse at times as to be almost cryptic, denied that the strike was illegal in any sense, stated that the executive board had no power to override the decisions of the international convention and refused charges of ulterior motives in the unions policy.

WILL ATTEND MEETING OF INDUSTRIAL Y. MEN

W. L. Grieser, industrial secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., will go to Columbus tomorrow to attend the second conference of the Y. M. C. A. industrial secretaries of the state. Ohio is one of the leading states in this kind of work and the secretaries are getting together to hear reports from all over the state on the standardized program as was set forth at the May conference.
